Level One Certification in Food Protection

WHAT?

The Level One Certification in Food Protection Course is a two hour course that satisfies the requirements of OAC 3701-21-25.

The course covers basic principles of food protection including: cleaning and sanitizing, hand washing and personal hygiene, employee health, person-in-charge responsibilities, time and temperature, storage and food sources.

Each course participant will receive class materials, a certificate of completion and an employee guide book to take with them.
